WHO LIVES WHERE IN 2000? -- AN ELSAH MILLENNIALIST --

by Jeralyn Lewitz

What is an "Elsah Millennialist"? It is a list, a document, that tells who is living in the village of Elsie in this millennial year. Let's stop the clock (which we must do, because so many changes take place) and see just who is here in the valley at this moment of time.

We'll begin at the river, as if we were to come off the Great River Road--and proceed along Mississippi Street to Mill Street. And then go all the way to Cemetery Road, and slightly beyond--with quick side trips as we go up Mill Street, onto the shorter streets: Elm, Selma, Maple, Alma, & Penn. Then we'll go back to the river, up LaSalle Street (with a side trip up Palm Street) to Valley Street.

(Please forgive any mistakes--in spelling or otherwise.)

* WELCOME to these new residents!!

And GOODBYE to these friends: Sara Batzer & Tim Jasina, Charlene & Gerald Becker, Julia Biesk, Sharon Crafton, Jan & Joe Eigner, Joanne & Jim Evans, the Kevin Hayes, Cricket Johnson, Genie & Ed Keller, Laura Kezer, Bill Kreutzer, Rhoda & Richard Mesker, Julie & Steven Sheridan, Carol Stookey (though she's nearby!), the Tucker family, Kim Whitmore, and Brian Wolf (the last two both live nearby, too).

Did you count the number of times the word "vacant" appears? It occurs 17 times!
 And try counting the number of part-time residents (identified with the word "of..."). There are 7.
 Maybe they will choose to make this their primary home.

VILLAGE AND MUSEUM ACTIVITIES

OPEN MEETING:

At an open meeting on May 23 villagers discussed the following issues:

- elevating Riverview House,
- making LaSalle Street one-way toward the river,
- having a sitting area near the river where the parking lot is now,
- parking tourist buses along Mill Street in green spaces or in the slough by the river,
- adding a sidewalk along Mill Street from Mississippi to Elm.

More recently, an idea was proposed to use State funds to open up the area by the Elsayh quarry (owned by Principia) for parking buses and cars, and have the new Byway Commission furnish a large kiosk there.

The Village is proceeding with plans for putting a restroom in the jail behind the Village Hall. There will have to be a place for vehicles to turn around, and this will involve moving the outhouse up the hill a short way. The Village has been given $200,000 for this whole project.

On December 2 there will be a tree decorating party at 3 pm in Selma Square.

The annual Christmas hymn sing will be Sunday, December 17 at 3 pm, at the two churches.

Next spring, on April 29, the Village will host an old car show, with a rain date of May 6.

MUSEUM:

An early 20th-century postcard has been reproduced for sale at the Museum.

A Civil War reenactment took place at the Museum on Sunday, May 7. Jim Evans and friends participated.

There was a special Museum exhibit by local photographers during the summer.

And at the end of October there was a Museum exhibit on the Keller bakery, with a very successful bake sale on Saturday, October 28. Proceeds from the sale will go toward conservation of museum items. As part of the exhibit, Jim Schmidt tape-interviewed Ed Keller on his memories of the bakery.

HEF ACTIVITIES

A set of the four Elsay prints by local artists has been matted and framed for display at Farley's. The artists include: Glenn Felch, Judith McCreary Felch, James Green, and James Schmidt.

Life Members have just received a gift of Colette Collester's book on Frederick Oakes Sylvester, as a special thanks for their "commitment to the preservation of Elsay."

The Board is still working on the idea of a brick walk alongside Farley's. The delay is because the walk will have to be wheelchair accessible.

A series of public talks & meetings took place last spring. It is continuing this fall and will go into next spring, with more "Fabulous" activities to be announced:

- February 18--Jennifer & Simon Davies—on "Eagles Along the Mississippi"
- March 3--General Membership Meeting—John Williams and other HEF Board members, on recent happenings of HEF; Mayor Jane Pfeifer, on Village matters; David Pfeifer, President of Great Rivers Land Trust; and Principia representatives Howard Berner and Curt Martin, on Principia's relation to the village
- April 7--Peter Martin—on "Garden History in Early America"
- September 19--Wayne Freeman of Great Rivers Land Trust—"Crisis across the River" (Ameren & the US Army Corps plan to fleet 76 barges at the Portage des Sioux power plant and install a massive barge-unloading facility there.)
- September 23--Eric Robinson—on "The Underground Railroad"
- October 20--Tim Tomlinson—on "South Africa: A Nation Coming of Age"
- November 10--General Membership Meeting—update on important issues impacting the village, such as: Ameren & L-15; use of the quarry area for parking; drilling at Elsay properties for underground rental storage space for documents
- Sunday, December 10--Village Stroll & House Tour—3 pm to 6 pm; $10; tickets, crafts, refreshments & HEF publications available at Farley's; 5 homes open: Butler at 10 LaSalle, Pitchford at 12 LaSalle, Bradley at 14 LaSalle, Smith at 10 Selma, & Brokaw at 54 Mill; most businesses & both churches open, with a choral group performing at the Methodist church
- Saturday, April 21, 7 pm—Lindsay Garritson & Erin Schreiber musicale
